

I am opposed to relaxing the media ownership rules. Concentration of ownership in electronic media reduces rather than enhances the ability of the public to experience alternative viewpoints. Modern media companies are merely divisions of global mega-corporations. These groups are not answerable to citizens in any meaningful way. Please refuse to relax the media ownership rules.